Why include the "Who to contact for..." information in every eblast issue? Because you never know when you might need it! If you have a complaint or concern about city issues, the phone number and email address of the person to contact is available to you. Contractor miss your house on garbage pickup day? The number to call is right there. Water line burst in your neighborhood on a Sunday morning? There's that phone number to call. Streetlight out in your neighborhood? There's a phone number for Mississippi Power. So, this information is always readily available to you.
